THE Plan of Pacification which Mr. Walpole has lately carry'd to London, engrosses the whole Conversation of this Place: Not but People talk of it as blind Men do of Colours without having seen any thing of the Matter. The sole Persons here to whom this Project has been communicated, are the Pensioners Slingelandt and Mynheer Fagel. None of the States, not even the Secret Committee, could obtain a Sight of it. And however necessary and proper this Privacy has been, yet some of their High Mightinesses shew an Uneasiness little to be imagin'd. The French Minister, who by this Method is kept in the dark, has not greatly assisted to appease the jealousy rais'd in some of the Members. His Excellency, for his own Part, has given Evidence of the utmost Impatience: he has practis'd all the Arts of Policy to obtain it. 'Tis said, that when the Scheme was yet in Embrio, and lay immature in Mr. Walpole's Brain, the World was ransack'd for Physiognomists to consult his Countenance, and to trace out the Secret by the Lines in his Face, and the Disposition of his Muscles. When the Matter was compleated and put to Paper, that Gentleman appear'd no more in a Crowd, but got on board his Britannick Majesty's Yacht with all imaginable Speed, and sail'd for London, with the Plan safe button'd up in his Pocket.

Upon his Excellency's Arrival in England, 'twas thought the Project will be laid before the Cabinet Council, to be deposited with them only, till it shall become necessary to make such an Emanation, as may give Light to the Ministers of the mediating Powers abroad, or allure the contending Parties within the Circle of a Congress.

Petersburg, Jan 25. The Deputies from the City of Dantzick are preparing to return home, Count Osterman having declared to them, by Order of the Czarina, that if the Magistrates of Dantzick had hearkened to her Councils, things would not have happened as they have done, for which reason there could be no Disputation granted of the Sum of Money demanded of the City, since the Expence occasioned by the Trouble in Poland rises much higher than what that City is required to furnish. The Prince of Hesse Homburg has sent Advice to this Court, that the Palatine of Kiow had sent Deputies to him at Leopold, and desired of him, as also of King Augustus, a Cessation of Arms for two Months, upon which his Highness waits for Instructions from Court.

Paris, Feb. 19. Our last Letters from Genoa of the 4th Inst. mention that the Commissaries of the Republick sent to Corsica to bring the Rebels to Obedience, had engaged one of their Chiefs to revolt, and to deliver up the famous Ginfary, but the Plot being discovered, the Rebels arrested the Author, and pass'd Sentence on him to be impaled alive, and had also seized the rest who were to serve in the Execution of this Design, and conducted them to a Vas-tress whereof the Rebels are Masters; and the latter had caused Publication to be made, that they will treat with the utmost Rigour all they shall suspect of holding any Correspondence or Intelligence with the Commissaries of the Republick.

LONDON, Feb. 13.

The Earls of Waldegrave and Essex are preparing to return, the first to resume his Function of Embassador in Ordinary at the Court of France; and the latter that of his Majesty's Minister Plenipotentiary to the King of Sardinia; and they will both set out together next Friday Night.

Horatio Walpole, Esq; having also received his Majesty's Orders to repair with all convenient Speed to the Hague, his Excellency came yesterday to the Exchequer, attended by about 14 Gentlemen, and pass'd his Accounts as Cofferer of his Majesty's Household, before the Earl of Melfort and Sir Conyers D'Arcy, Comptroller of his Majesty's Household.

Capt. Hugh Percy, who is arrived in the Downs writes, that he left South-Carolina the 22d of December, and on Christmas Day, about 10 in the Morning, having a pleasant Westerly Wind, it on a sudden looked black to the Northward, which occasioned his sending six Men up to furl the Main Top-sail; but before they had done it, a violent Clap of Thunder and Lightning broke on the Ship, and struck four of the Men dead from the Yard; the other two were preserv'd, tho' one of them was burnt in a most terrible Manner. It struck several Pieces out of the Main Mast, and beat several Persons down on the Deck. He adds, that he apprehends he should have arrived before the Easterly Winds took up, (which kept him out three Weeks,) had not this Misfortune beset his People.

On Sunday Morning between 10 and 11 o'Clock, a Sharper went to the House of Mr. Litton, a Merchant on the Batchelor's Walk in Dublin, and ask'd to speak with him; the Servant answer'd, that he was ill in Bed, and could not be spoke to; upon which the Fellow said, that he must see him, for he owed Mr. Litton Money, and could not appear of any Day but Sunday, and that he wanted to pay him; upon which the Servant shew'd him into the Bed-Chamber. When the Servant went out, the Villain said that he was an Englishman and a Traveller, and wanted Money to bear his Charges home: Mr. Litton, touch'd with his Story pull'd out his Purse, and was going to give him some Money; but the Rogue snatch'd it out of his Hand, and swore he would cut his Throat if he did not give him the Key of his Exchequer, which Mr. Litton did, and he open'd it and took out what Cash he could find; after which he made off undiscover'd.

CHARLESTOWN, May 10.

On Saturday last between twelve and one o' Clock died, after a long and lingering Sickness, His Excellency ROBERT JOHNSON Esq; Captain General, Governor and Commander in Chief in and over this his Majesty's Province, and was decently interred on Monday last in a Vault near the Altar in Charles-Town Church. His Pall was supported by the Gentlemen of the Council, and his Corps was attended to the Grave by the Lower House of Assembly, headed by their Speaker, and a numerous Body of Gentlemen and Ladies who came from all Parts of the Province, where timely Notice could be had of his death, to pay their last Respects to one whom they might justly look upon as their common Father. The Troop and the two Compagnies of Charles-Town Foot appeared on this melancholy Occasion, to add to the Solemnity of the Procession. The principal Mourners were his Excellency's two Sons and two Daughters, his Brother in Law Thomas Broughton Esq; our present Governor, and his Family. His Excellency died in the 59th Year of his Age, and in the 5th of his Government. He had on his Advancement disposed of all his Patrimony in England, so that his Interest might concur with his Inclinations in promoting the Welfare of that Country his Majesty had done him the Honour to intrust him with the Care of, and accordingly always kept up a good Correspondence with the Assembly, as they were all fully convinced by the whole Tenor of his Conduct, that the Interest of the Province lay principally at his Heart. But it will be needless to enlarge upon a Life & Character so well known, and which have render'd his Death so universally and deservedly lamented over the whole Province.

On the same Day was issued the following

PROCLAMATION,

AND Whereas His most sacred Majesty has been graciously pleas'd by his Royal Commission to me, bearing Date the first Day of October 1730, to constitute and appoint me Lieutenant Governor of the said Province.

I have therefore thought fit (by and with the Advice and Consent of his Majesty's Honourable Council) to issue this my Proclamation, to will and require all his Majesty's Subjects of this Province, to pay due Regard and obedience to his Majesty's said Commission to me, as his Lieutenant Governor. AND I do by Virtue of the said Commission appoint all Officers, as well Civil as Military, within the said Province, to continue in their respective Employments and Authorities till further Orders.

GOD SAVE THE KING.
